This Week in Math:

Algebra 1 students have been learning about more about inequalities, including compound inequalities and absolute value inequalities. The students have been solving, graphing, and applying their knowledge to real world application problems. The students have done a great job seeing the relationship between equations and inequalities while also recognizing the differences. Great job Algebra 1 students, keep up the great work!

6th Grade Homeroom students participated in activities and conversations related to School Violence Awareness Week. The students watched videos about the impact that their words and actions can have on others, discussed how to be kind and joyful, and conversed about the positive and negative effects of Social Media on students today. The 6th grade class did a great job sharing their thoughts, paying attention to the videos, and came up with great ways to be kind to one another. Great job 6th grade, keep up the great work!
