This week in Homeroom:

In homeroom on Tuesday, the 6th grade students were visited by a few of their 8th grade classmates. The 8th grade students provided each student with a piece of paper and they were told to write a letter to any individual who they are thankful for. Many of the students wrote to their parents, teachers, friends, etc. Several students read their letters aloud to the class because they felt very proud of what they wrote and the person they were writing to. The 8th grade class will continue to do this throughout the year. In addition, during homeroom, the 6th grade students discussed what they are thankful for (again) and how special tomorrow is to them.

Have a wonderful, Happy Thanksgiving!
