This week in 8th grade the students were introduced to geometry-related content such as angle relationships. The students are now able to classify angles as being vertical, supplementary, complementary, adjacent, and non-adjacent. The students also used their knowledge of geometry to set up equations and accessed their prior knowledge to solve the equations. Great job 8th grade, keep working hard!

This week in Homeroom the 6th grade students led the middle school morning meeting. The students broke out into small groups, led a greeting, and then explained an activity to their middle school classmates. The activity that the students participated in was "The Human Knot". The students initially held hands and intertwined themselves and then worked together, without letting go of each other's hands, to unravel themselves. The middle school students identified that they used skills such as communication, leadership, trust, and teamwork. Great job leading the morning meeting on Friday 6th grade, keep up the great work!
