Class Info:

5th Grade: Absolutely loved every single lab safety project! Moving into the process of science.

6th Grade: Going to start designing our first hands on experiment after committing to our lab safety rules and discussing the scientific process

7&8 Grade: An exciting week of measuring with the metric system! We are all developing the common language of weights and measures in class!

STEAM: Lots of hands on, project based group challenges happening over here! So much work on effective communication, teamwork, and grit!
