This Week in ELA Grades 6-8...

Sixth Grade continued closely reading and analyzing the short story, "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow," by Washington Irving. We read and analyzed poetry, and we read our Independent Reading (IR) books. We continued examining story elements, focusing on conflict and theme. We also continued closely reading and thinking critically about nonfiction texts from Scholastic Scope. We read nonfiction texts on Newsela, we practiced writing strong paragraph responses, and we responded to journal prompts. We completed Wordly Wise Lesson 2 activities and assessments, and we will begin Wordly Wise Lesson 3 on Monday. Assignments are posted in Google Classroom.

Seventh Grade continued closely reading and analyzing the fiction text, Frankenstein, by Mary Shelley. We read and analyzed poetry, and we read our Independent Reading (IR) books. We continued examining story elements, focusing on conflict and theme. We also continued closely reading and thinking critically about nonfiction texts from Scholastic Scope. ELA Grades 6-8...

Middle School English Language Arts Curriculum is aligned to the New Jersey Student Learning Standards for English Language Arts. We use the workshop model of instruction in both reading and writing. Students read and write across a wide variety of genres as well as study the effective uses of writing, mechanics, and grammar. The curriculum supports, encourages, and facilitates choice/independent reading that allows students to pursue topics and genres of interests. The curriculum also embeds text activities and literacy experiences that engage students in reading partnerships and deep, thoughtful discussions.

Sixth Grade texts include read alouds, poetry, nonfiction articles from Newsela and Scholastic Scope magazine, fiction texts, short stories, and the novels Hoot, by Carl Hiaasen and Wonder, by RJ Palacio, and (possibly) Pax by Sara Pennypacker.

Seventh Grade texts include read alouds, poetry, nonfiction articles from Newsela and Scholastic Scope magazine, fiction texts, short stories, and the novels The Giver, by Lois Lowry, Holes by Louis Sachar, and (possibly) Drums, Girls, and Dangerous Pie, by Jordan Sonnenblick.

Eighth Grade texts include read alouds, poetry, nonfiction articles from Newsela and Scholastic Scope magazine, fiction texts, short stories, and the novels The Outsiders, by S.E. Hinton, The Gospel According to Larry by Janet Tashjian, and Sleeping Freshmen Never Lie by David Lubar, and (possibly) Drums, Girls, and Dangerous Pie, by Jordan Sonnenblick.
